1.  The referent memorandum requests information on additional requirements for communication capability or existing capabilities which may be surplus.

2.  In response to this call for the years 1979-1983, we responded that there are frequent requirements by various Headquarters components for secure voice communication with our  We discussed the possibility

3.  The ground lines recommended above would provide some additional insurance that inadvertent use of classified information would not result in security compromise. In addition to this measure, a secure voice capability approved for transmission of classified information is recommended.

4.  We know of no existing communication capability which is surplus to our needs.
